Minister's Message:

What a glorious day it was, Groundbreaking Celebration 2018. I must share with you that for me and many others I am sure, it was a very emotional day. I kept thinking of all those individuals who have passed on to us that legacy of faith, the same legacy that we pass on to future generations. We will be forever grateful. There are so many people to thank, I believe I will do it mostly through groups. A note of thanks to the choir for the beautiful and appropriate music, to our young people who assisted in numerous ways. They were outstanding. A note of thanks to all those who made this project a reality, our board of trustees, our church board, and yes you as a congregation for your gifts, time and prayers. I also appreciate the efforts of our church staff, the building committee, the church cabinet and many, many individuals. We appreciate those individuals who got the delicious food ready for us to enjoy, individuals who sat up and took down tables, washed dishes and took out garbage. It certainly took a lot of hard work but what a glorious day for us to remember. Thanks to Tucker Judy and Judy Construction company for providing us with drone coverage of the event and also Debbie Kendall for some memorable photos. Thanks also to Gary Bruner who has put both of those on the website of the church for you to enjoy. Also a note of thanks to Joe Rorer for providing the tent, chairs and tables for the occasion and Tommy Little for venturing down from Lexington to make sure we had a first-class sound system. Tommy does this in the Lexington area, weddings, etc. If you need his services, feel free to contact me. We are also appreciative to Lee Kendall who was present talking pictures and is planning on writing an article of the occasion for the Democrat. I also thought it was special having so many of you bringing your shovels and sharing in the breaking of ground. I have sat at my desk this morning, probably for too long, looking at the event and also the pictures. Both of them provide for me the memory of a great day, a day of hope, a day of fellowship, a day of pride, and a day of vision. It is one of the special days of my life and I appreciate each of you for making it so. See you Sunday.
