MORNING CIRCLE

Another outing! This time we’ll go for lunch at The Smoking Pig Café just this side of Butler, Ky. This place, not only has good food, but there are also areas that sell collectibles, potted plants and iris (they are beautiful). Truly this is a very unique establishment.

NOTE THE CHANGED DATE: Thursday, May 19th: We’ll meet at the church at 10:00 A.M. Please invite a friend, another church member or spouse to join us for a fun, short trip. We’ll travel by van and/or car. Call Martha at 234-2592 or Kathy at the church office 234-5332 for more information. Hope to see you on the 19th.

PLEASE NOTE: The Cynthiana Christian Church Relay for Life team cookout has been postponed until a later date

Vol. 66 No. 42 Cynthiana, Kentucky May 12, 2016

Minister's Message:

When we returned home to Pulaski, Virginia for mom's service and interment, I saw some of my high school classmates. One was a fellow football player while the other was the captain of the cheerleading squad. I don't remember a lot concerning my high school football years, but I do remember that Judy and her fellow cheerleaders were always encouraging. That helps if you only secure four wins in two seasons. I might add that three of those wins in my junior year had to be forfeited because our star halfback was married to one of the cheerleaders, which was against high school athletic policy at that time. Oh well, four wins, sixteen loses, makes a man out of you. I remember some of those cheers, "Two bits, four bits, six bits a dollar, all for the Orioles, stand up and holler." In all honesty there was little to get excited about. I also remember the back and forth cheer with the other team's fans and cheerleaders, "We've got spirit, how about you?" Then the other side would respond, "We've got spirit, yes we do. We've got spirit, how about you?" You always hoped for the louder fans. Many of our youth in the church are cheerleaders, but I don't think I hear either one of these cheers from them. This Sunday is Pentecost Sunday in the life of the church. Can we say confidently, "We've got spirit, yes we do. We've got spirit, how about you?" There was much misunderstanding that took place that first occasion of Pentecost. People were speaking in different languages, in fact some observers thought that everyone was filled with too many spirits of a different kind that made them drunk. Over the years other individuals have tried to explain Pentecost in simple terms, but this was more than a simple event of God's intervention with His people. Many of us are not comfortable talking about the Holy Spirit, so we attempt to down play it in our religious teachings. We never want to lose God's Holy Spirt because we need it so desperately in life. If you want to read about the event, it is found in Acts 2: 1-13. Be with us Sunday as our sermon will be entitled, "Nothing But..."
