Minister's Message:

There are so many pleasant memories of the Advent and Christmas season. Where in the world do we begin to reflect? I first want to begin by thanking Charla Nunnelley and her Worship Committee for the beautifully decorated sanctuary. A note of thanks also to Ann Owsley for her efforts in this beauty. We began by receiving the benefits of the C.W.F. dinner and program. That was certainly an inspirational evening. Our youth in their Christmas Sunday school program was another effort worthy of the highest praise. We have all been blessed by the choir and hand-bells during the month of December. We also have been inspired by the C.M.F.'s toy sale, and the sharing of food baskets by the Outreach department. Your response to programs such as the angel tree in our community, Christmas concerts by our local talented musicians, and community sponsored efforts such as parades, etc. have been very faithful. We can look back on these events and give thanks for the groups and individuals who made it all possible. For me it was all joined together on Christmas Eve, at our Candlelight Communion Service. I believe it was the largest crowd we have ever had present. It was a most inspirational service as a result of the efforts of our choir and the Bel-Lairs. I also viewed several pictures of the service placed on Facebook by Shonda Judy. Shonda's pictures and comments were very meaningful and caused me to be very proud of this service. It is a moment that we will remember for an extended period of time. I hope you and your family will be with us this Sunday morning for worship. The lectionary lesson will be John I verses 1-9. The sermon will be entitled, "A Message From the Queen." Thanks once again for your faithful support of all the programs of our church during the month of December. Thanks also for all your cards and Christmas remembrances to our family. You are a special group of people.
